"BODILY STOLEN FROM US."

For some time past the belief has been growing upon The Bee that William Jennings Bryan was elected President of the United States over William McKinley, and that he was counted on from a glorious victory by the most brazen of whole-sale fraud. We have tried not to think so, however, because we abhor the very idea that any organization of men could be so shameless as to reverse the verdict of the ballot-box by crime, and to rob the American citizens of their birthright. But the circumstantial evidence constantly accumulated, that such an offense has been committed, and we can no longer shut our eyes thereto, nor close our lips to our honest opinion in the matter. The averment that Bryan was elected and counted on has been made on the floor of the United States Senate by Senator Vest, of Missouri, and Senator Teller, of Colorado.

We are permitted to copy a portion of a letter from United States Senator James K. Jones, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, to Ex-Congressman Charles A. Sumner of San Francisco, written under date of December 8th. After some pleasant references to their former associations as Congressmen, the Senator and Chairman writes to Mr. Sumner:

"I thank you very sincerely for your kind expressions as to my management of the campaign, and am sorry that my faith in American institutions has received the greatest shock by this election. If the time has come when the elections in this country can be bought, it seems to me that we have reached the end of our usefulness.

"I am very strongly inclined to believe—in fact, I may say that I do believe—that we carried this election by a large majority, and that IT HAS BEEN BODILY STOLEN FROM US. Reports coming to me from Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Iowa, Kentucky and West Virginia, assure me that the most stupendous frauds ever known have been perpetrated in those States.

"I say this in great sorrow, because I have always had an abiding faith in the integrity of our institutions." The above, however, are at the best but mere expressions of personal opinion. Let us see what facts, if any, there be which would give some foundation for such a startling charge. The New York World, a McKinley paper, recently presented the following returns from seven States, showing the figures in the Presidential elections of 1892 and 1896:

In Ohio Bryan received 70,765 more votes than Cleveland did in 1892, and yet McKinley is given a majority of 51,109, making an increase in four years of 121,874 votes.

In Indiana, where Cleveland received a plurality in 1892 of 7125 over Harrison, Bryan received 41,414 votes more than he did, and yet McKinley is credited with a majority over Bryan of 20,065, making an increase of 109,418 votes. In Illinois Bryan received 26,475 more than was given for Cleveland in 1892 when he carried the State by a majority over Harrison of 26,993, and yet McKinley is given the State by a majority over Bryan of 143,824, making an increase of 243,751 votes in four years. In Minnesota, where Bryan received 38,557 more votes than did Cleveland in 1892, McKinley is credited with a majority of 53,978—an increase in the vote of the State in four years of 100,189.

In these seven States alone there appears an increase of 877,124 voters, or 4,385,630 inhabitants. Does not every school-boy know that these figures are simply preposterous?—Sacramento Bee.

Not So.

It has been said that District Attorney Jones would be defended in his suit for an assault with a deadly weapon on Sam Davis, the other day at Carson, by Pat Reddy. There is no truth whatever in the assertion. Mr. Reddy will not appear as counsel. Over two thirds of the members of the State bar have offered their services, however. Mr. Jones will not in any likelihood avail himself of their services. General Clarke and James F. Dennis will defend Mr. Jones if the case ever comes to a trial.—Gazette.

We trust that the attorneys who have volunteered to defend Jones, have done so with the idea that no brass knuckles were used, as we do not believe that over two-thirds of the members of the Nevada bar endorse that sort of weapon.
